Catalyst Maria

URL: <http://www.catalystschools.org>

Job Description Summary: Mission is central and of absolute importance at the Catalyst Schools. All other things (curriculum, discipline, assessment, professional development, mentoring, coaching, external relationships, board development, as well as hiring and supervising all staff, etc.) are rooted in the Catalyst understanding of mission. Mission is the foundation of Catalyst culture. Culture is the dynamic that gives the Catalyst schools their deep identity. Culture is related to the practice of and inspiration underlying a tradition that began in France in 1680. John Baptiste de La Salle organized the first community of teachers who organized and ran elementary schools, boarding schools, trade schools, and teacher training institutions in France. These schools were known as The Christian Schools. The teachers in these schools took upon themselves the task of critically analyzing their practices, popularizing the best practices, and handing them on from generation to generation of teachers.

Finders Teachers

URL: <http://www.finders-teachers.com>

Job Description Summary: Finders Teachers, or "FT" as we call it, was born of the idea that hiring a teacher should be much easier than the process as it currently exists. The premise is simple: to quickly allow teachers and districts to find one another over our online platform. Districts enter the search criteria they're looking for in a teacher and a list of matching candidates is returned in seconds. From there, districts have 2 options: 1. instantly contact a prospective teacher and begin the interview process via our website, or; 2. enter the candidate found on FT into the hiring system used by the district (i.e. Aplitrack) and begin the process in step with that district's hiring protocol.

Regardless of how it's done, we're making the hiring of a prospective teacher faster, easier and more convenient for all involved.
